GRETNA GREEN, 20 TO 1, WINS BIG CARTER HANDICAP

PARKER, BRIDGET & COMPANY

NOTE THIS TO-DAY.

When you come down to-day just notice the class of men selecting their spring clothes-a class of men who, like yourself, a few years ago preferred the work of the best custom tailors. The change from the good to the better has been gradual, but complete, and the factors involved are clearly defined.

When we say "better" than the best custom-tailored garments, we mean "all things considered." P. B. Clothes are properly proportioned. They neutralize any minor defects of physique. To the stout man they add grace and balance by slightly emphasizing breadth of shoulders and chest. To the thin man they give a well-set-up athletic appearance. These are the two extremes, but they express

The man who buys a P. B. Suit is not required to imagine the finished effect of a piece of fabric. He slips the complete suit on and knows instantly.

Fitting and tedious try-ons are eliminated, and the same qualities of fabric, workmanship, and style that formerly cost him $40 to $60 he finds duplicated in the Parker-Bridget clothes at $25 to $35.

You may pay higher prices than these, but you can't get any higher qualities.

The price range starts at $12 for the young men's models. The business models, $18, $20, and $25. The famous "Club" models,

'It never does for fighters to be so unfriendly that they continually are calling one another names through the press and other sources. If I beat Jeffries on July 4 I will be the first one to help him to his corner, and if he beats me I will be the first one to congratulate him.

'Although I celebrated my thirty-second birthday last month and did not receive any good wishes from Jeffries, I think it was more of an oversight on his part than anything else. I hope he had as good a time celebrating as I did, and I hope his wife is on the road to recovery.'

JOE TURNER GETS DECISION.

Puts Over Gotch Toe Hold and the Referee Stops Bout,

Last night at the Gayety Theater Jos Turner, the champion welter-weight wrestler of the District, met John O'Neil, of Philadelphia, in a catch-as-catch-car bout. O'Neil was to throw Turner in fifteen minutes, which he failed to do, as Turner got the famous Gotch toe hold on him, and Referee P. F. O'Connor parted them rather than have O'Neil's leg broken, giving Turner the decision. The grapplers had only one minute left to wrestle when the referee stopped them, To-night Turner will again westle Hallie Murath, "the dangerous Turk," to a finish in a catch-as-catch-can bout.

Favorite's Defeat Ascribed to Several Reasons-Big Crowd at Aqueduct Finds Little Opportunity to Make Bets-Alfred Noble Is Second and Far West Third in Feature.

New York, April 15.-Gretna Green, a six-year-old gelding by Ben Brush-Runaway Girl, bred by James R. Keene and owned by John W. Schorr, a wealthy Memphis brewer, shocked 7,000 racegoers when he won the $2,500 Carter Handicap at Aqueduct to-day. Among the oral speculators Gretna Green found practically no favor, for he went to the post

Jack Atkin's defeat was ascribed to several causes. He had one of the outside positions at the post. When the barrier went up to a very bad start the big horse propped himself for a moment and when he sprang forward Alfred Noble bumped into him as the latter was jammed by Gretna Green. Nicol tried to restrain Atkin, he explained after the race, but the horse had so much speed and strength that this was impossible

The big race was the feature of the opening of the Metropolitan racing seaon, and it served to attract a surprisingly large crowd when the present embarrassment of the running turf is considered.
